year, and of our revenue for the nine months ending on December 31 enable us to forn. some estimate of our national prosperity They are, says the "Spectator," sufficiently remarkable to startle even the most opt total volume of our foreign trade largely, exceeds the enormous figure of one thousand millions sterling. Imports have increased by 7.6 per cent., exports by 13.9 per cent., and the re-export trade by 9.5 per cent. To give the figures : - The total value of imports was £607,998,000, an increase of £42,968,000 over those of the preceding year; exports reached £375,673,000, an increase of £45,856,000; while re-exports were £85,163,000, an increase of £7,383,000. The details are as satisfactory as the totals. Among the imports, it is raw material and articles mainly or wholly manufactured in which the chief increase lies, the exports, the growing items are largely articles. wholly or mainly manufactured, the increase being 13.5 per cent. To take one item, the increase in the export of iron and steel is 25) per cent in value and 26 per cent, in quantity. Nor has the first impression made by these Returns to be corrected by much writing down on account of increased prices. It is true that the prices of many articles and commodities were higher last year than the year before; but the general rise in prices is estimated at only 6 per cent., which leaves an ample margin for quantitative increase. Many conclusions may be drawn from these figures, but one is insistent. We are experiencing an unexampled wave of prosperity. Free-trader and Tariff Reformer alike can make but the one deduction. The increase in the imports of raw material and partially manufactured goods, and in the export of wholly or partially manufactured articles, shows that during the past year there has been a high pressure laid upon our producing activity. The demand has forced an expansion of supply. The Tariff Reformer may argue, as the "Times" does, that the dumping of iron has ceased because America is too prosperous and is unable to supply her own requirements, or that we are relieved of some Continental competition because trade is so good with our neighbours. The "Spectator," prefers to put it that a general wave of prosperity is passing over the world, and that our existing economic system enables us to take full advantage of it. The Revenue Returns for the last nine months are equally comforting. The increase imistic. For the first time in our history the over the corresponding period in 1905 is £1,497,800. The Chancellor of the Exchequer, having in view the lowering of the duty on The Of mntran Basette tea and the repeal of the duty on coal, calculated to receive in 1906-7 £1,223,000 less than in 1905-6. To take the separate items:-There was an estimated decrease of £2,245,000 in Customs. But up to date the decrease has only been £674,000; and even if we assume that this item will decline during the current quarter by another £700,000; the total decrease will still fall far short of the estimate. Excise, estimated to decrease by £30,000, shows for the nine months an increase of £107,000. The Death-duties were assumed to grow by £230,000, but the actual growth during three-quarters of the financial year has been £1,495,000. The increase in the Income-tax Returns was put at £150,000; it is already £167,000. And in "miscellaneous items" an estimated deficit on the year of £13,000 has been changed to an increase on the nine months of £336,800. One or two. items, such as stamps, show more than their estimated decrease, and it looks as if the Post Office and Telegraph receipts might fall short of their estimated increase. But these are minor figures compared with the great totals of increase, Mr. Asquith can scarcely avoid having in hand at the end of the financial year a balance over his estimates of something between £2,000,000 and £3,000,000, and if he succeeds in effecting certain savings in expenditure, as seems probable, he may have a surplus of from £5,000,000 to £6,000,000 At present, of course, the trade prosperity is not fully reflected in the Revenue Returns, except to some small degree in Customs. But a prosperous commerce, high wages, and continuous employment are bound very soon to give a new elasticity to the revenue, and next year we may look to see its effects. It is true that the enormous receipts from Death; luties last year were rather in the nature of a windfall, and that millionaires cannot be expected to die with such regularity and profusion in every financial year. The objection is fair, but it must not be pressed too far. It seems to us that every Chancellor of the Exchequer is justified in looking for much arger receipts from the Death-duties during he coming decade :than have accrued during he past. The great fortunes have been most of them made within the last thirty years, and heir possessors are only just beginning to die, Ve should not be surprised to see the Deathuties double their yield during the next wenty years,

THE RUSSIAN AGITATION

YESTÉRDAY'S SCENES IN ALEXANDRIA.

To all outward appearance, Alexandria, ordinasily as perceial on a Sonday, seemed yesterday to be in the very throes of a revolution. The agitation in favour of the release of yesteriny to be in the very throes of a revolu-tion. The spiration in favour of the release of three Reasian refugees, who have been arrested by the police on a very grave charge, and to a which we referred on Saterday, yesterday, assumed used more serious preportions than the wear wear and the serious proportion of the less of the diplemation off solice with it stand in the wey of such a step, and regardless of the Capital tions, a large proportion of the European pepulation of Alexandria is elamont-ing for the release of three Resian revolu-tionaries, whose carrestition they wish to prevent—on grounds which are parely senti-mental. However much we may sympathies with the Resian revolutionaries in their strong's with despotism, any movement suchas the present is greatly to be deprecated, and we are surprised to set that local contem-porary has gone to such carrems lengths in fan-ning an agitation which can be productive The scenes in the streets of Alexandria both of no good.

The scenes in the streets of Alexandra both on Starday and yesterday were deplorable.

On Starday, on a remour being appread that the rafigues had been embarked on the Ra-sian stame for Ode-sa, a crowd of "munifisataria" and their ways to the quay. shouting "Vivo Is be a street," and boarded the vessel with the olject of discovering whether the rumour was tree.

As it happened it was not, but some ill-advised person in authority called out the Fire Brigade to deal with the demonstrators. This measure only aggravated the situation, and gave rise to incidents which might have been avoided by the exercises of more discretion. The crowd attacked the Fire Brigade and did some the contraction of the

"GLI UGONOTTI."

M-yerbeer's fine old opera "Gli Ugonotti" was vary well given on Satorday night: it was the bigh level of the performances which we have yet seen. Sig. Marchi Emilio is a most sympathetic Rood, and, though laborring under the disadvantage of a heavy cold, filled his rancting part admirably. We hope see no more empty houses during his to see no more empty nonsec usums septoms in Alexandria. Signa, de Lerm Matidde's Valentine is a convincing combination of voice and acting; and her difficult and involved gymnastics in the upper compasse were most cleavely and accorately handled by Sg. Finzi Magrini. We will not deap, however, that we feel, as it were, horn out of due time for these intrinsts cadences, which gives one, like the longer trills in Handel's Messish, no definite pleasare, but rather a handing terror that the strained performer will break down, turning paths into bathos. For the rest, Sir. Chotkowka Ladilars made. will brask down, turning pathos into bahos. For the rats, Six Chotic west, Ladislaws made an attractive Urbano; and as for Marcellowe are almost tired of praising Sig. Walter Carly, who never disopoints us. (PROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.)

The inaugural proceedings at the new Winter Pelace Hotel have been carried out with such delightful entertainment and on such a lawish scale that everyone who bapartaken of the hospitality off-wet him is filled with regret at their termination. Starrflay's programme included the visit to the far famed Tombs of the Kings for those who were energetically irelined, and a most prefact lunch was served to those who preferred to spend their morning exploring the various objects or interest in the immediate regishouthoof.

During the afternoon the workuen and builders who had laboured to connectionally at their task were collected in the will infinished garden at the back of the hotel and there received the reward of their toil in the abuse of must congratual latory appeaches from Mr. E. A. H. trison and Mr. doshoon and substantial gifts, doles of mest being distributed to the men and handsome watches being presented to those who had control of the various gangs. Mr. Harrison indeed proved the presiding spirit at these, as at the subsequent proceedings, being generous in the thanks he ascorded to those who had bornet the burden and heat of those who had bornet the burden and heat of those who had bornet the burden and heat of the day, and hospitable to a degree to all who were present As chairman of the Upper Egypt those who had borne the burden and heat of the day, and hospitable to adgree to all who a were present As chairsan of the Upper Egypt Hotels Co, he voiced his committee in its expression of hope for a successful future. The dinner hoar assuredly done his best to make that future a certainty.

The dinner hour was fixed for 7.30 p m., and the restaurant, brilliantly lighted and the restaurant, brilliantly lighted and by notabilities from Caira and the neighbourhood and representatives of the press. We have not space to give the names of those who were present. E lough that the dinner was admirable, and the future visitors of the heist should have the utmost confidence in the unision.

Speeches, dancing, bridge, and conversation followed the dinner, and in the course of the whole of our Egyptian experience we, have bollowed the dinner, and in the course of the whole of our Egyptian experience we, have never known an evening in which hospitality and informality were so delightfully blended, and we have no besitation in saying that if the Winter Palace Hotel continues as it has began it will be the most popular house of suterialment in the length and breadth of Egypt. The only cause for regret during the above-mentioned proceedings was the absence of M. Pagnon, who, as proprietor of Pagnon's Ho'els and latterly as managing director of the Upper Egypt Hatel, has proved himself to be one of the leading and most successful person-alities in Egypt. alities in Egypt.

TEL EL KEBIR

Historical events have succeeded one an other so rapidly the last few years in Egypt, that even the details of the bombardment of Alexandria and the misadventures of Arabi Pasha have passed away into the resims of anoiest history away to those how were personally interested in thom. Scarce a drawn pigimes in as many years ever visit those forgotten batthfields of Kassassin and Tel el Kobir. onless it be those who still moorn for their dread at reat in the little cenclary in the violatity. The until train below most form of the control of the still desired and Part Soid screeches as it das hes part the deserted artistics; but so far have Tel at Kobir and book into the obscurity from which it emerced for that short space of time in 1882 that it is difficult enough to arrive there unless one leaves Chiro at the early hour of 7 a.m., to the control of t tans it is cumpute enough to arrive there unless one leave. Cairo at the early host of Ta.m., and the little jorney of some forty miles takes at least two hours to cover. The village tiself lies some distance away from the station, on the further side of the fresh water canal the testion do not argue much for the prosperity of the place.

Within a five minutes' walk, aloneside the railway track, surrounded by a high lending and embowered among its plantation of epures, encelybras, and palm tree, is the patholic little countery where we many a young and promising life was lid to its eternal rest. The battle-flexible where Arabi male his last ones in there enshrined.

The battlefield where Arabi male his last tend lies some three coiles away, between Ealei Kebir and Kasassin and cous boiled he qual. To a called yet truly rans through the centre of, it, and that portion which is, batween the railway and count has now, seen if welled and termed into a fettle count where the Eyphian Grasmans to imaking differences are avaignment. But for this other the two houses near at hand, the battlefiste lies just as it was left after these events of the autumn of '82. Waking a mo tys of the autumn of '82. Waking arrothe homomoles of hard and stony desert which, border the railway, one can form a larly' good idea of that forced march taken by our troops between the setting and uprising ann which so covered them with glory ar the time. Here can still be traced the lines of surflworks occupied by Arabi and his troops when he fell back from K-assis; here are the very embraunts of his gues just as they wan-fr whan that overpowering charge of Britishtroops thus this positions, and droves the reby back into the Delta. Mount this line of garthworks which still meanafer soon the serhworks which still meander round the sation and unsque be seens for a moment. The 30,00 or against and irregular native troops side at they thought in their entreuchments. In first strake of daws just appearing in the ky. Then the sudden and unexpetted approach for British, the first warning oracle of a 8. yo in rille, and then the 'n idea cheer and re-h of our men as they charged across the field, Highlanders well the fore. Imagine the moment for the form. he pouring forth of smoke and flame from the her, imagine the me és as the rehale w pushed back and back into the second line pushed back and back into the second line of searthworks and than firdly were neattered in: the desert. The one general was short suc-sharp and decides and the sharp can therrise march of the British rropes across the interviral ing country to Cairo books "b - book of the rebillion. And even though the details of the fighth vsa borome lots in the mixef of years, and history books are but dell reading, it is given for us to asked there on the very spot au-think of the days that are given.

So for a quarter of a century this battlefield ar remained as it was laft on that evant isy of September 13th, 1982, perhaps its very visity of September 13th, 1982, perhaps its very inhaltion; the most eld quest memorial of the negacy-ment. Who knows but in the curise of time its after may be lost under the field is of vaccatation which little by little are lapping at its boundaries. For with the increasing properity of the country and the spread of Cairo's suborbs, it is not at all imbrobable that the wonderful climate of Telel-Kabir will halld it another resortion in the factors.

the the wonderful climate of Tule IK whire all boild it another reputation in the future. Certain it is that this neighboulhood, was the Goshun of the Bible: here Joseph, dwell wilk his family and il ke; such there later on the Habrows lived out their de-offul boilding transare ofties and atternheuse for their royal master. Rumains of these grain after here been discovered within recent years, and it is any over that the neighbouring raine of Teller-Ms kinats probably mark the site of its Bibliother Pittlon.

tion. Pew trains stop at the little station, and the intending pilgrim must make up his mine the intending julivim most make op his mind for an early att it for winds to return by the train which leaves Telel-Kebir at 4.15 p.m. And as there is absolutely no accommodation of retatranto the like, he must deceased by bus with him all he is likely to require. But beyond these drawback, and verily they are oversely hard-hips if taken in the right way, a overeity flattering it taken in the right way, a day spent in the glorious keen desert air, on a spot rich with historical associations is of far more value to mind and body than many passed smid the more vitiating surroundings of town life.

TO OUR VISITORS.

The Eqpptian Ga3cttc has much pleasure in presenting to its affiseribers the accompanying description of some of the many interesting routes by which they may travel homewards. Great care has been taken to arrange them as will be found that none of them we fraught with difficelly. In choosing the route home there are several things to be considered. To begin with there is the difference in climate between Egypt and the various points at which you may arrive in Europe.

PICTURE POST CARDS.

"The Egyptian Cazette" Series is the most artistic collection to be found in Egypt.

This depends partly upon the mouth in which you heave Expyt, for Cuiro in, January may be a little wanner than the Rive and possibly not so warm as Sirily, be tim March it will be warmer than Rene, and more uniformly warm than many other places in Europe. Many people leave Egypt far too early in the year, for as a rule the weather in April and May is perfect. The warmest place to go to May is perfect. The warmest place to go to some will want to take into consideration the number of days to be spent at see, and we therefore subjoin a list showing the time coeryield on each of the various novtes between Egypt and the Continent of Europe.

The steamers of the P. & O., North German Lloyd, Orient, and Messageries Maritimes are the largest. The Anchor, British India, Bibby and Henderson Lines are also excellent, and their steamers are largely patronised by travellers to Egypt.

As regards the train jowneys from Cairo the shortest is that to Alexandria, without change (3 hours). That to Port Said can now be made without change is 4 ½ hours.

The lesst expensive way to England is by the Moss, Papayanni, Prince, and Westcott lines of steamers from Alexandria to Liverpool. The German Levant line has also good steamers from Alexandria to Liverpool.
